

Located in a quiet cul-de-sac, with direct access to Forty Baskets Beach, this multi-level home was originally designed by us in 2006. Capturing the breathtaking views across the Sydney Harbour from each level, the home was given a complete internal makeover to incorporate a lift for its owners. A muted palette of natural timbers and stone with touches of blue and green were used throughout as a gentle nod to its coastal setting. Externally, the street façade was given a dramatic upgrade with the installation of steel framed windows, natural stone and a striking front door in Axolotl finish. The end result is a sophisticated, tranquil coastal home to be enjoyed for many years.

Photographer: Tom Ferguson