

A substantial historic home held within the client's family for generation was transformed into two separate single level apartments with sweeping views of the Sydney CBD, Harbour and Barangaroo. A new lift was retrofitted to connect both apartments. A loft room was designed in the existing roof space to maximise space, views and storage. Extensive landscaping works were carried out in collaboration with Wyer & Co and include a long cobbled driveway, automated gates and landscaped gardens.

Photographer: Tom Ferguson