

Situated 100m from Sirius Cove Reserve and beach, this original 1920s cottage has been completely transformed. The client's brief was to redesign the interior space across all three levels to provide a more practical layout.

Preserving the traditional proportions and detailing of the original period property, the result is a home that provides modern living within a traditional period setting.

PHOTOGRAPHER | CRAIG BRYANT

