

Located within the harbourside suburb of Lavender Bay, this 1890's heritage-listed house enjoys uninterrupted views of the iconic Sydney Harbour. The works involved a two-storey addition to the rear of the property, a complete internal renovation and reorganisation of room flow to take maximum advantage of the views. The result offers a more functional layout whilst maximising views and reinforcing the home's heritage character.

Photographer: Justin Alexander