

We were commissioned to redesign this home as a private & practical family home.

The façade presents a discrete face to the street, emphasizing a modern classical form & the 2-storey portico with decorative metalwork defines the entry. The reconfigured interior provides an orderly connection between spaces and the calm and tranquil interior, with modern lines, is a clean background to the client's collection of art and antique furniture.

A leaf shaped swimming pool is perched on the cliff, and a striking concrete blade wall supports a steel stair that wraps the wall like a ribbon and provides a dramatic approach to connect with the waterfront.

PHOTOGRAPHER | TOM FERGUSON

