

This home overlooking Balmoral Beach, was given an internal renovation to bring a contemporary feel to the space. A stunning three-sided, sculptural fireplace with joinery was added and functions as a space divider between the living and dining areas. In the kitchen, Japan black timber and white stone benchtops are a crisp and elegant choice for the finishes with a bank of cabinetry and curved forms throughout adding softness to the overall space.

PHOTOGRAPHER | TOM FERGUSON

