

Located on a large, steeply sloping waterfront land holding, this substantial home was designed as two pavilions 'book-ending' a central terrace with a large waterfall. The home adopts a modern classical aesthetic where symmetry, a sense of balance and order dominate, with Asian influences and an emphasis on natural stone and timbers complimenting the overall look.

PHOTOGRAPHER | BRETT BOARDMAN & CRAIG BRYANT

