

This substantial five-level, home was conceived as a series of three interlinked pavilions, terracing down a wedge shaped, north facing waterfront site overlooking Middle Harbour. The building has a solid sandstone base integrated with extensive landscaping whilst the upper levels are clad in stained timber battening to create the open and light feeling of a Balinese boutique hotel. This is a unique house that takes maximum advantage of an outstanding site and will certainly withstand the test of time.

PHOTOGRAPHER | RODNEY WEIDLAND

