

This magnificent family home is a traditionally inspired modern residence spanning four levels overlooking Chinaman's Beach. It is arranged in 2 pavilions separated by a stone clad colonnade which forms the circulation spine of the residence. The materials used are opulent and subtle. Externally, the home combines a base of sandstone, crisp off-white render, dark stained timber walls and a copper roof. Inside, sawn travertine, stained oak flooring, linen and leather upholstered walls and timber veneer panelling create a richly detailed, luxurious and sophisticated family home.
