

This modern, contemporary house spans four levels and enjoys magnificent views over Balmoral Beach. The scale of the home is crafted using a combination of rendered brickwork, quartzite stone and grey cedar cladding. The top floor is dedicated to living and entertaining, wrapped around a large terrace, swimming pool and outdoor living areas. The beautifully appointed interior incorporates both rich textures and natural materials, creating a seamless indoor/outdoor transition.

PHOTOGRAPHER | TOM FERGUSON

