

This beachfront home sits on top of sand dunes overlooking Wamberal Beach and rests on 25 metre deep concrete piers. The home was designed as two separate pavilions. A two storey beach side pavillion contains living areas and kitchen with a master bedroom suite, a study and sitting room above. The second street side pavillion accommodates a double garage, store-rooms with guest bedrooms and self contained living areas above. The design is a sophisticated reinterpretation of the skillion roofed beach shack. It combines sandstone, rendered masonry, timber floors doors and windows to create a warm and inviting beach house retreat.

PHOTOGRAPHER | CRAIG BRYANT

